Fraud Awareness

Natixis Corporate & Investment Banking in Asia Pacific only carries out business activities with financial institutions and corporates. It does not offer any retail banking services or financial products to individuals.

In recent years, there has been a rise in impersonation scams and investment frauds. It is observed that fraudsters have adopted sophisticated methods to defraud people such as impersonating regulated financial institutions to illegally solicit funds from the public. The public should stay vigilant against such schemes.

In addition, Natixis does not post job vacancies on non-professional channels such as WhatsApp, Facebook, Instagram, Threads, RedNote, etc.

In case of any suspicion or concern, the public can contact the local authorities or law enforcement agencies (as appropriate) to report an incident.
